THE BEAVER

AUGUSTA HIGH SCHOOL
AUGUSTA, WISCONSIN

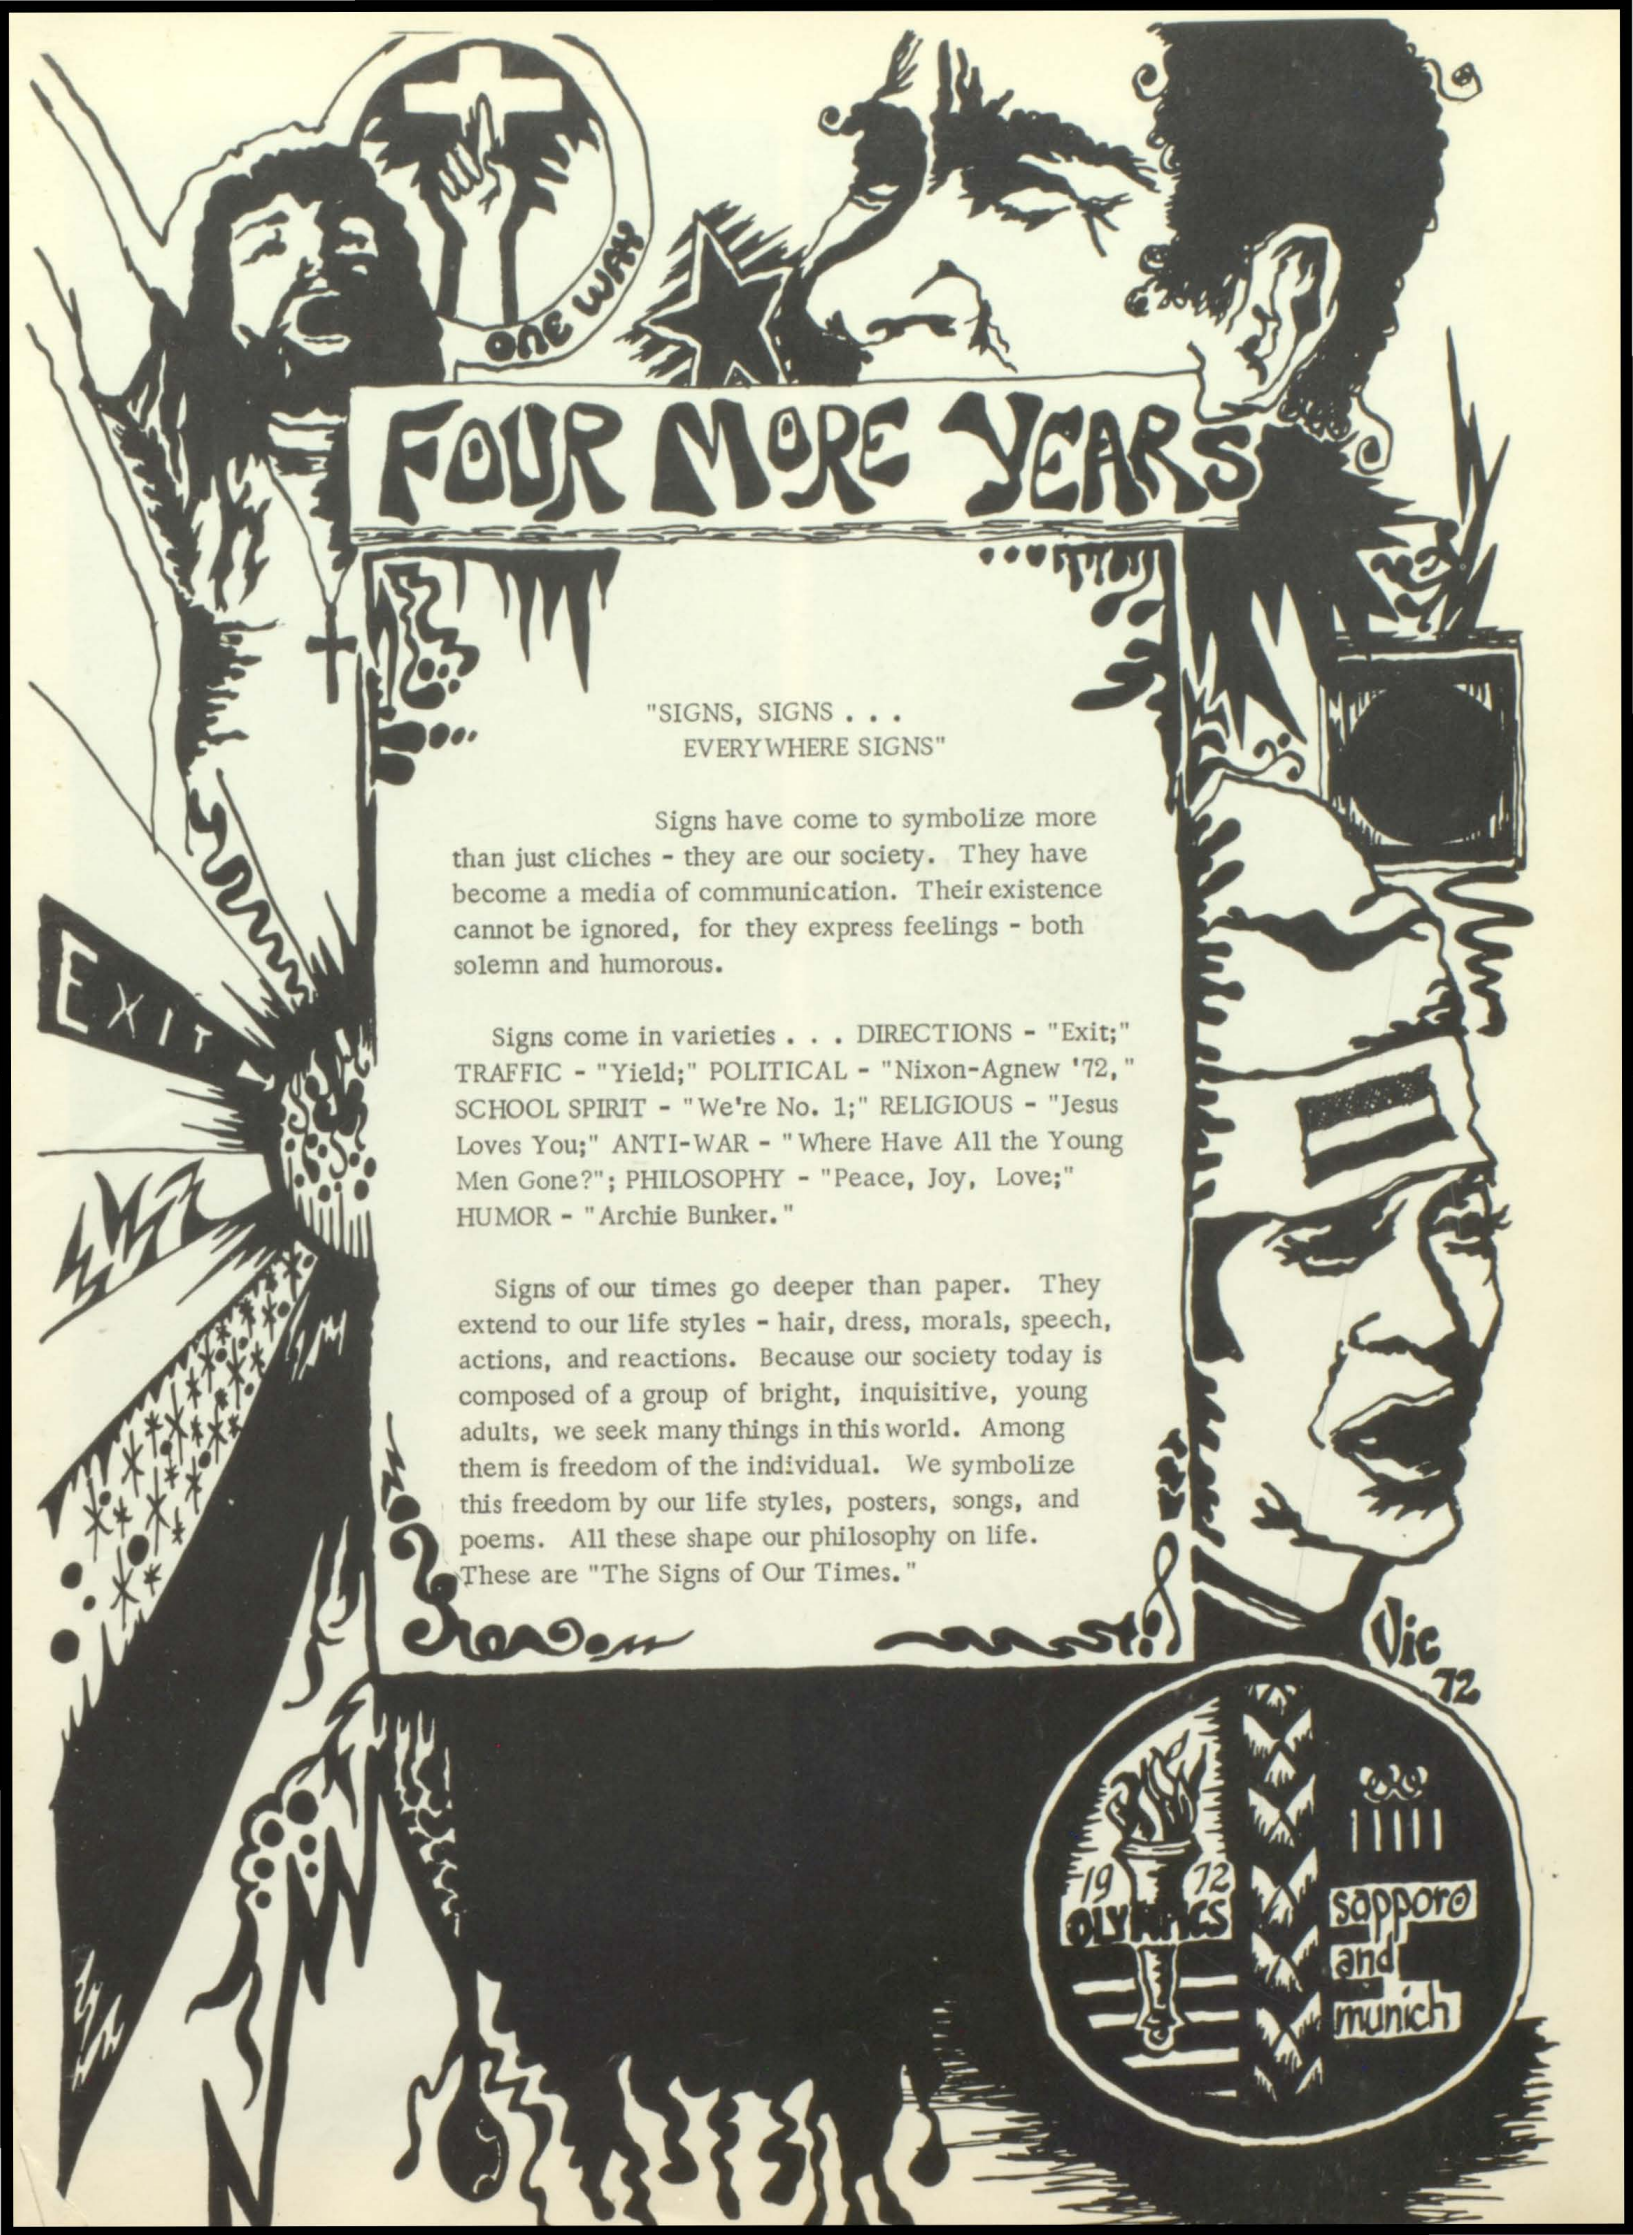

DEDICATION

In appreciation for their many contributions to our school and community, the class of 1973 dedicates this edition of the BEAVER to the Augusta Lions Club.

The Lions Club promotes many annual school activities. They help make it possible for wrestlers and basketball players to go to state tournaments. They finance a delegate to Badger Boys' State. They sponsor the Athletic Banquet to honor the lettermen and cheerleaders; and they sponsor the Senior Honors' Banquet to recognize those who have achieved academically.

Community action is also a major role in the Lions Club program. It is customary each year for the Lions Club to provide a childrens Christmas party, complete with a movie, and a Santa who distributes candy. They also make major contributions to the Boy Scouts, the Junior Livestock Show, and the annual Farm Institute Day.

It is for these projects, and for many others, that we give the Augusta Lions Club this special recognition.

FOUR MORE YEARS

"SIGNS, SIGNS . . .
EVERYWHERE SIGNS"

Signs have come to symbolize more than just cliches - they are our society. They have become a media of communication. Their existence cannot be ignored, for they express feelings - both solemn and humorous.

Signs come in varieties . . . DIRECTIONS - "Exit;" TRAFFIC - "Yield;" POLITICAL - "Nixon-Agnew '72," SCHOOL SPIRIT - "We're No. 1;" RELIGIOUS - "Jesus Loves You;" ANTI-WAR - "Where Have All the Young Men Gone?"; PHILOSOPHY - "Peace, Joy, Love;" HUMOR - "Archie Bunker."

Signs of our times go deeper than paper. They extend to our life styles - hair, dress, morals, speech, actions, and reactions. Because our society today is composed of a group of bright, inquisitive, young adults, we seek many things in this world. Among them is freedom of the individual. We symbolize this freedom by our life styles, posters, songs, and poems. All these shape our philosophy on life. These are "The Signs of Our Times."

PRE-SCHOOL

School activities were taking place even before the doors of Augusta High School opened on August 23.

Football practice, directed by Coach Osborn, had been in progress for a number of weeks.

The Senior class had their portraits taken August 21 at Aanes Studio.

To reflect upon the years' activities, let us guide you through OUR STORY of a typical school day at Augusta High.

GO-GO

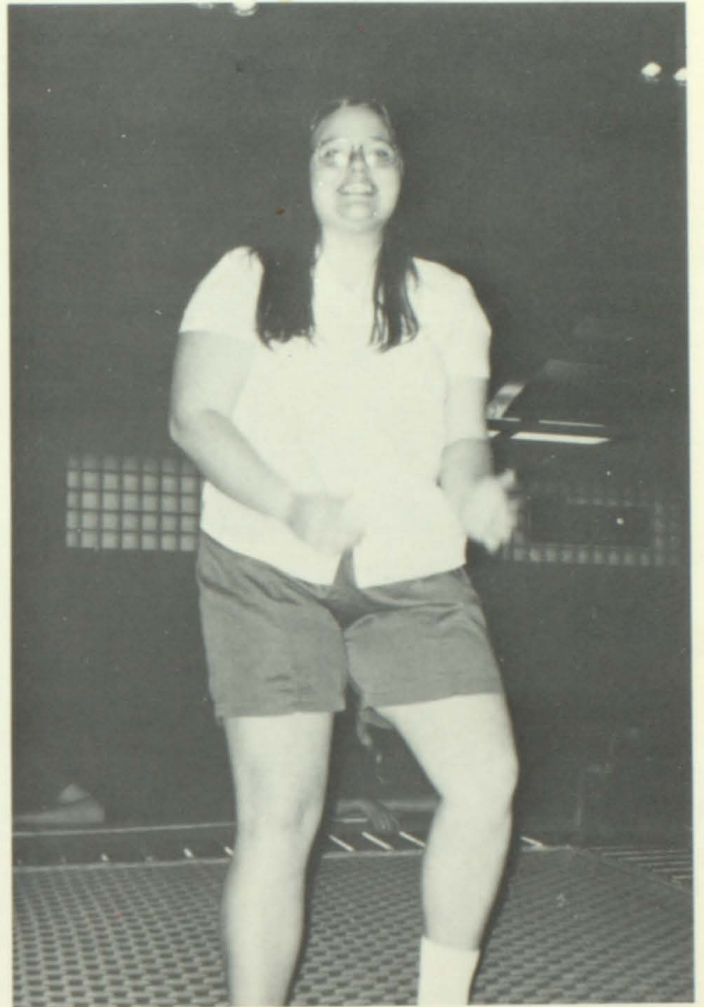

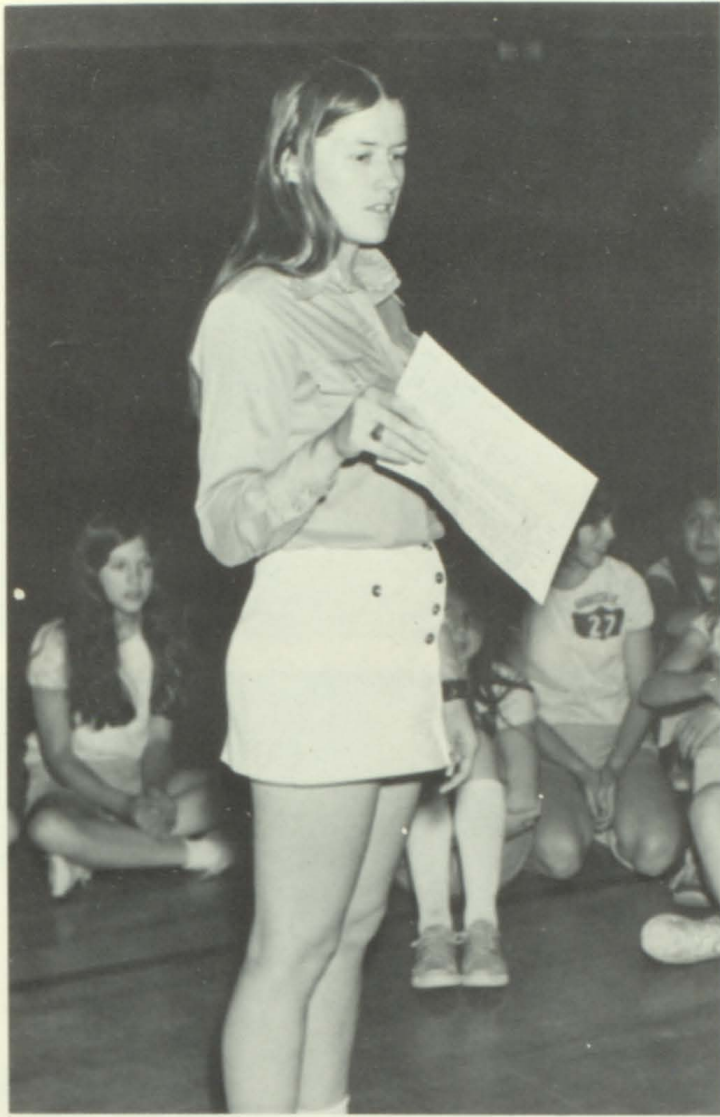

GO-GO

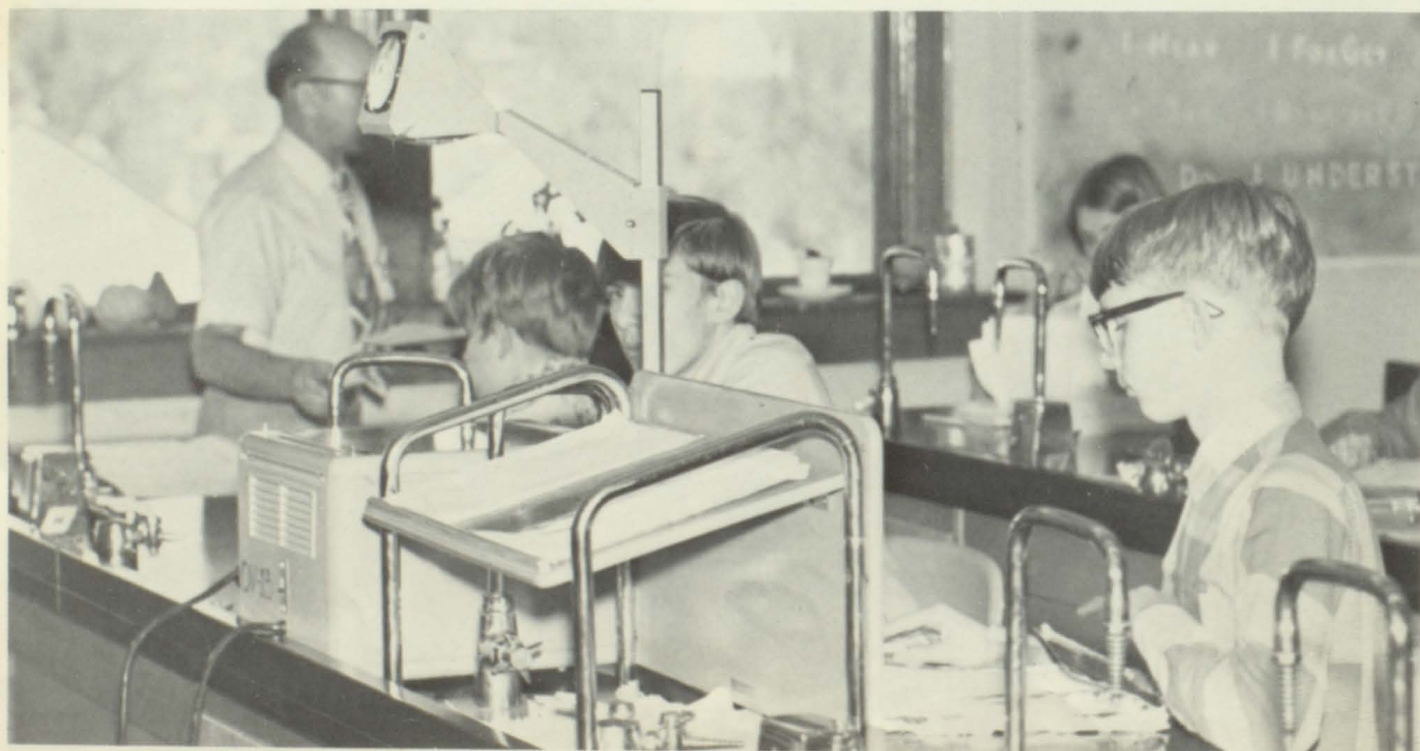

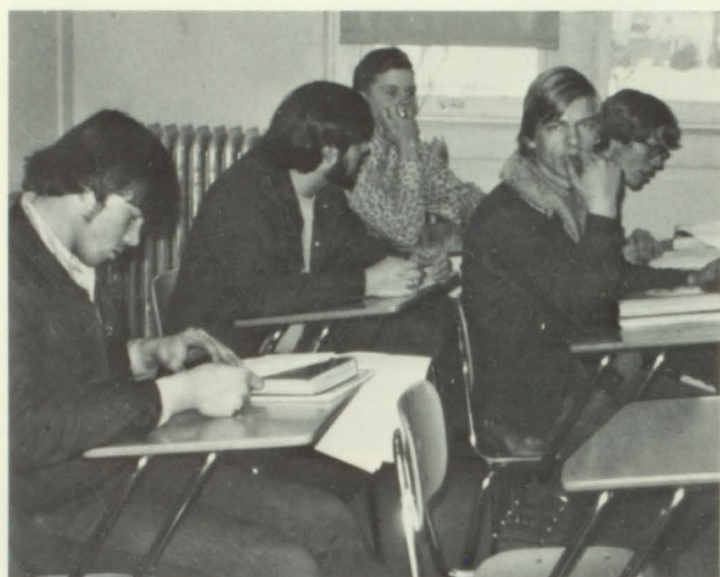

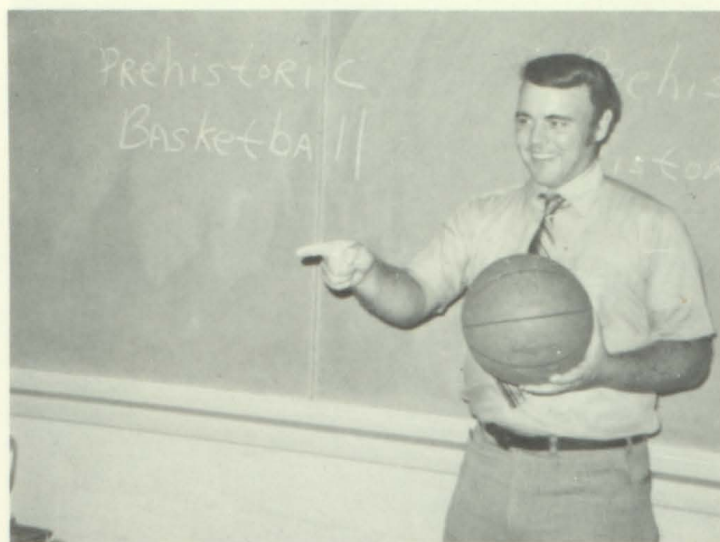

MORNING ACADEMIC

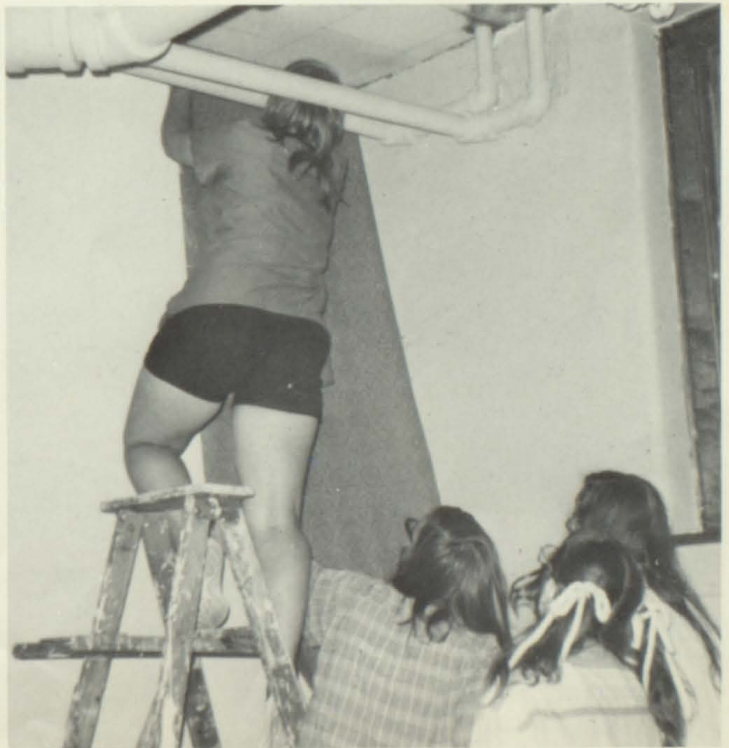

The silence that reigned over the halls throughout the night concedes to the invasion of discontented students returning to a week of school following a weekend of mental torture caused by worry over how they are going to get shorthand assignments finished in first hour bookkeeping class. The typically well prepared student then enters third hour history to find he is having a quiz on the material he has not read yet.

LUNCH

Fourth hour begins a two hour lunch period, initiated by the mad rush to be first to pass Stella's punch station; only to receive the nourishment that makes a better student.

Following a fitful meal, the student spends an exciting hour and a half beneath a barrage of basketballs. Some students use this time for quick cramming. Others take their daily trip to the Little Store where they find nourishing supplements to their fitful meal. This time is also used to solicit for sports activities, annuals, and other fund raising activities. Alka Seltzer is also sold. And so it goes!

AFTERNOON ACADEMIC

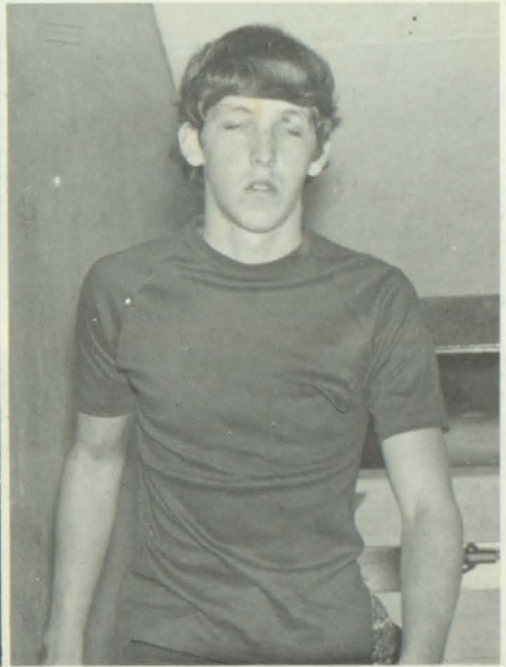

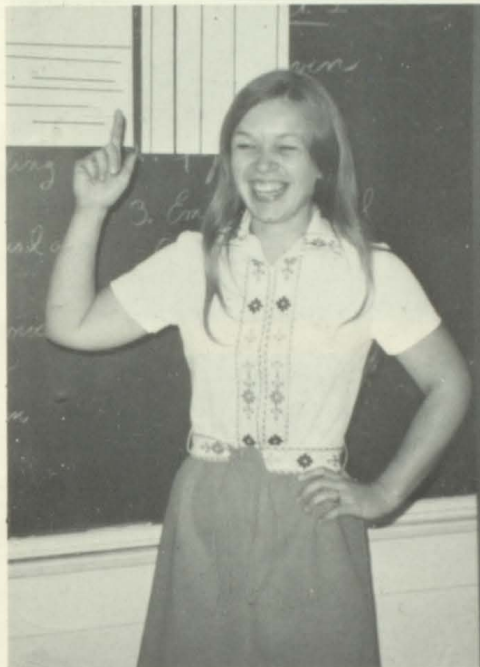

Capstone courses, offered to prepare students for jobs, included Power Mechanics, Building Trades, Business Education, and Health Careers. Augusta provides the vocational building for Power Mechanics. The Building Trades capstone course is centered at Osseo-Fairchild. Business Education and Health Career students are transported to Altoona. Our vocational coordinator, Mr. Neil Blinkman, oversees these courses.

The Biology and Ecology classes enjoyed several field trips. These included the creek bottom, landfill site, the school forest, the cranberry marsh, and the sewer system. One of their active projects consisted of recycling pop cans.

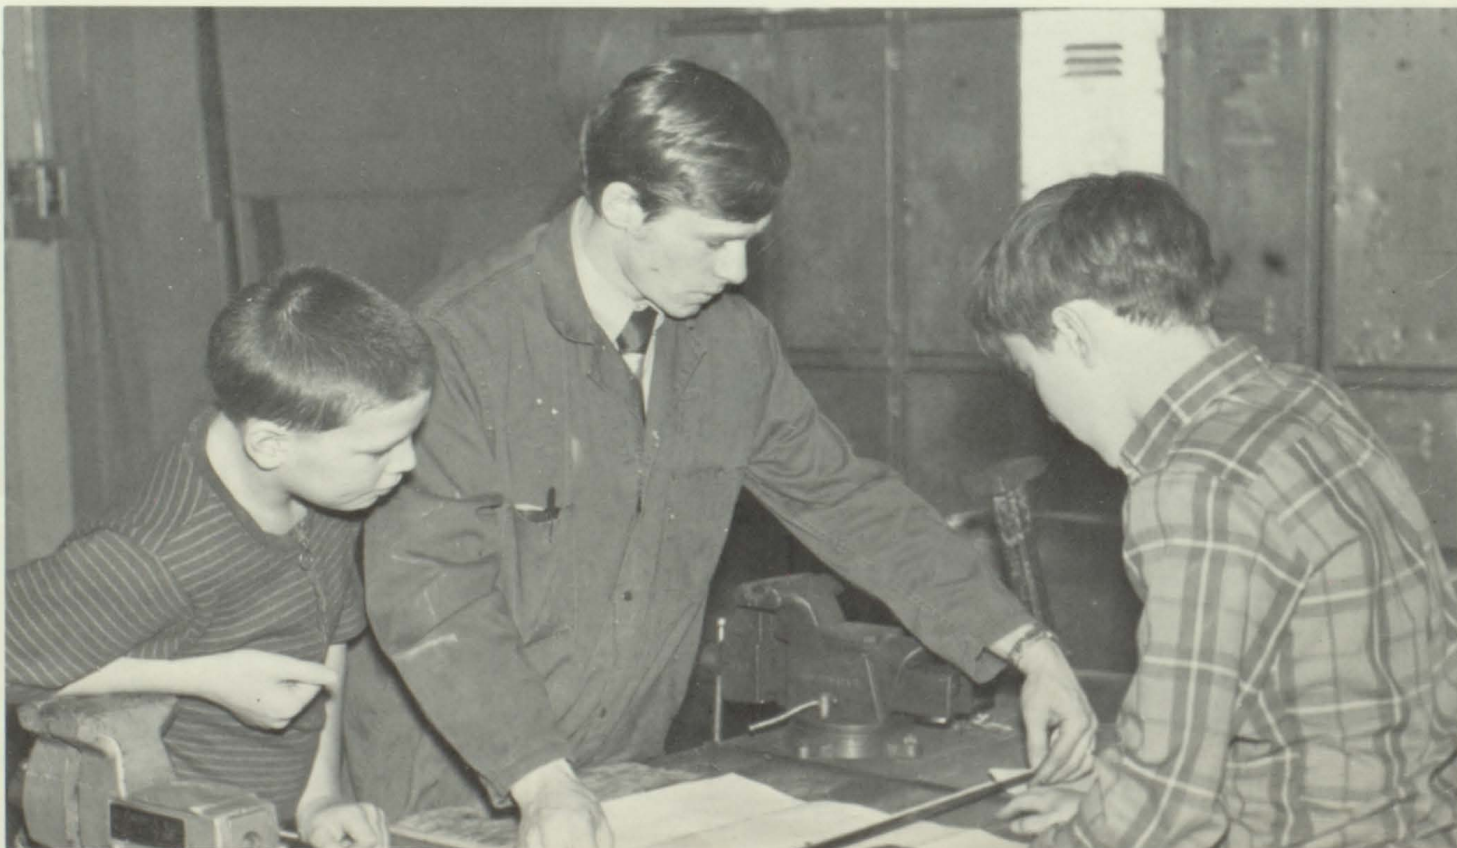

This year the Interior Design class applies their abilities to redecorating Mr. Anderson's room. The dungeon now compares to a "Duke's" castle.

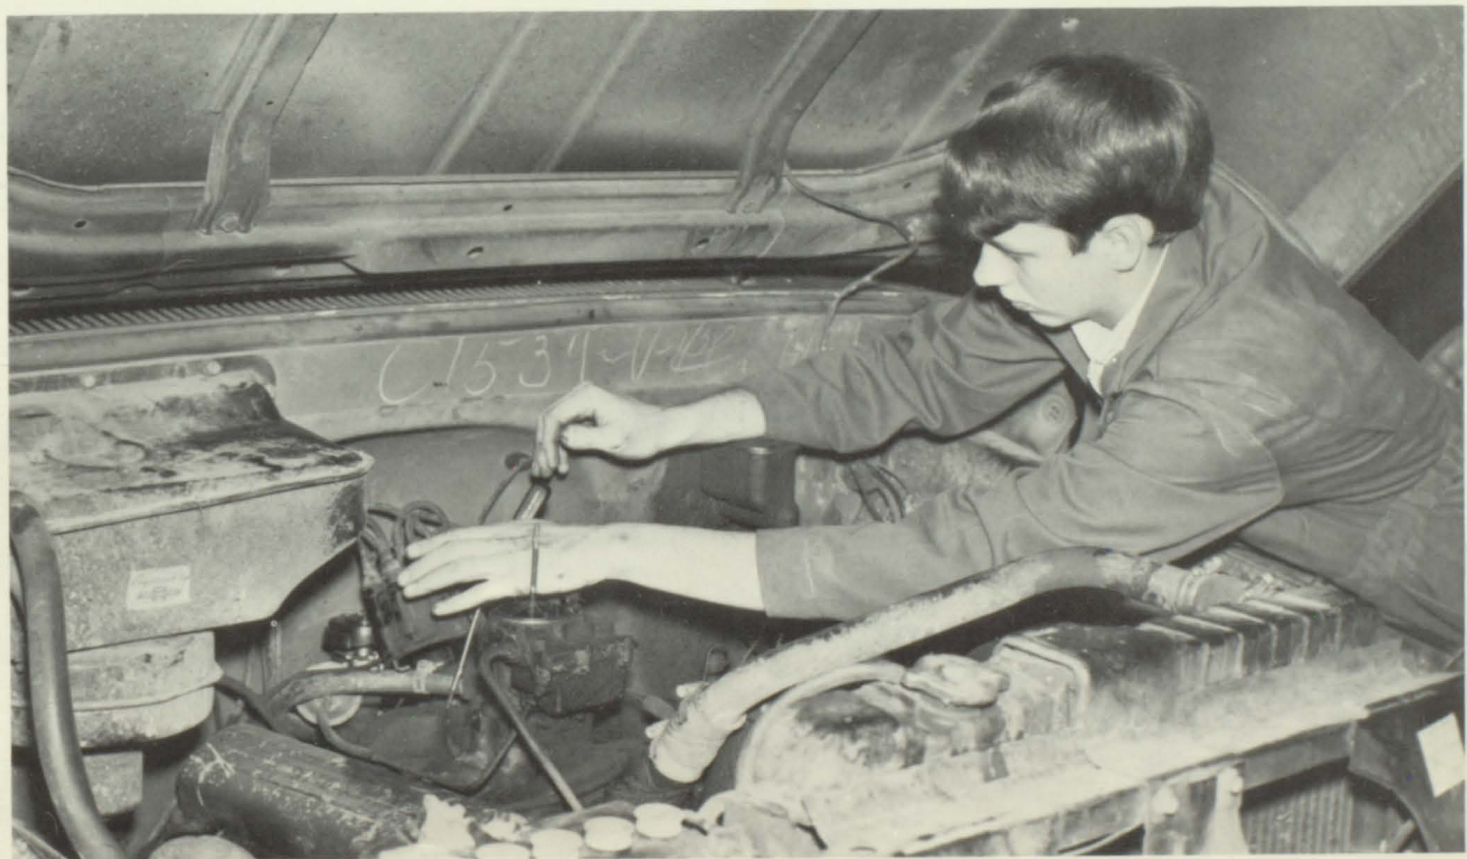

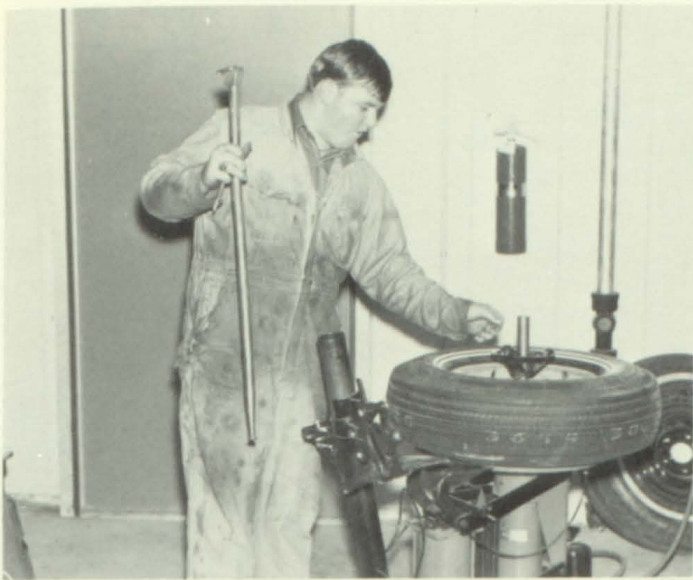

The Youth Tutoring Youth program succeeded in giving many students something rewarding to do with their free time. It was also of benefit to those elementary pupils participating in the program.

AFTERNOON ACADEMIC

POST SCHOOL

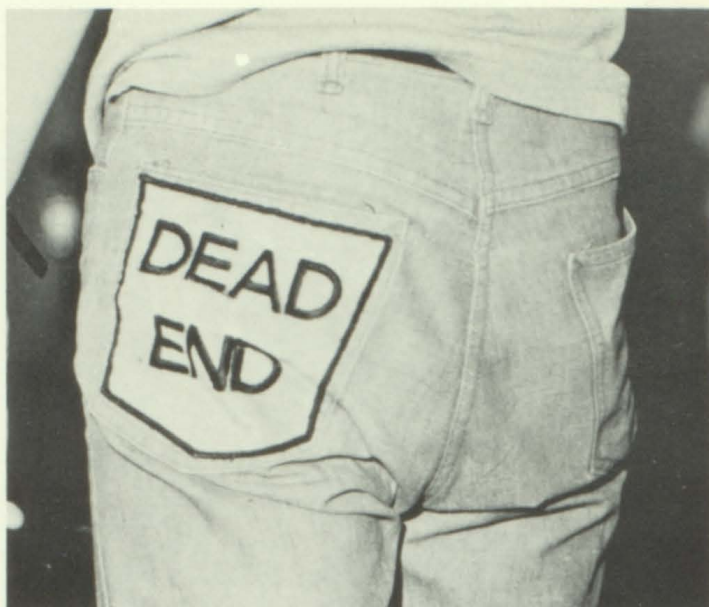

Not everybody runs to catch a bus at 3:20. Many students obtained work permits enabling them to leave school when they were through with their classes. Independent studies made it possible for the students to obtain work permits.

At the close of a hard day, we find the athletes practicing for the upcoming sports events. The cheerleaders, too, must practice so they can attempt to raise school spirit. The dramatics and Forensics departments practice to perfect their performance. It must pay off, for the One Act Play made it to the state contest at Stevens Point.

During the week of homecoming, decorating floats was a common activity.

Decorating also took place for the Prom and Winter Ball. This included rigging up a water fountain and stringing crepe paper from the peak of the gym. The trees had to be flocked for the Winter Ball. Holly and mistletoe added excitement to our decorating duties.

As the halls empty, the broom and cleaning barrels are unveiled. We find the janitors and their helpers busy at work combating the innumerable upkeeping repairs.

FOOTBALL

We're #1!! This cheer was truly a sign of the '72-'73 football season at Augusta High School. Our team was honored to be the #1 small school in the state for its undefeated season. There were only 14 total points scored against us the whole season. Our victory over the Independence Indees gave us the conference title besides creating infinite pride among the fans of the Augusta Beavers. This was the first undefeated football season for Augusta for over 30 years. Augusta was united in its pride in this fine football team.

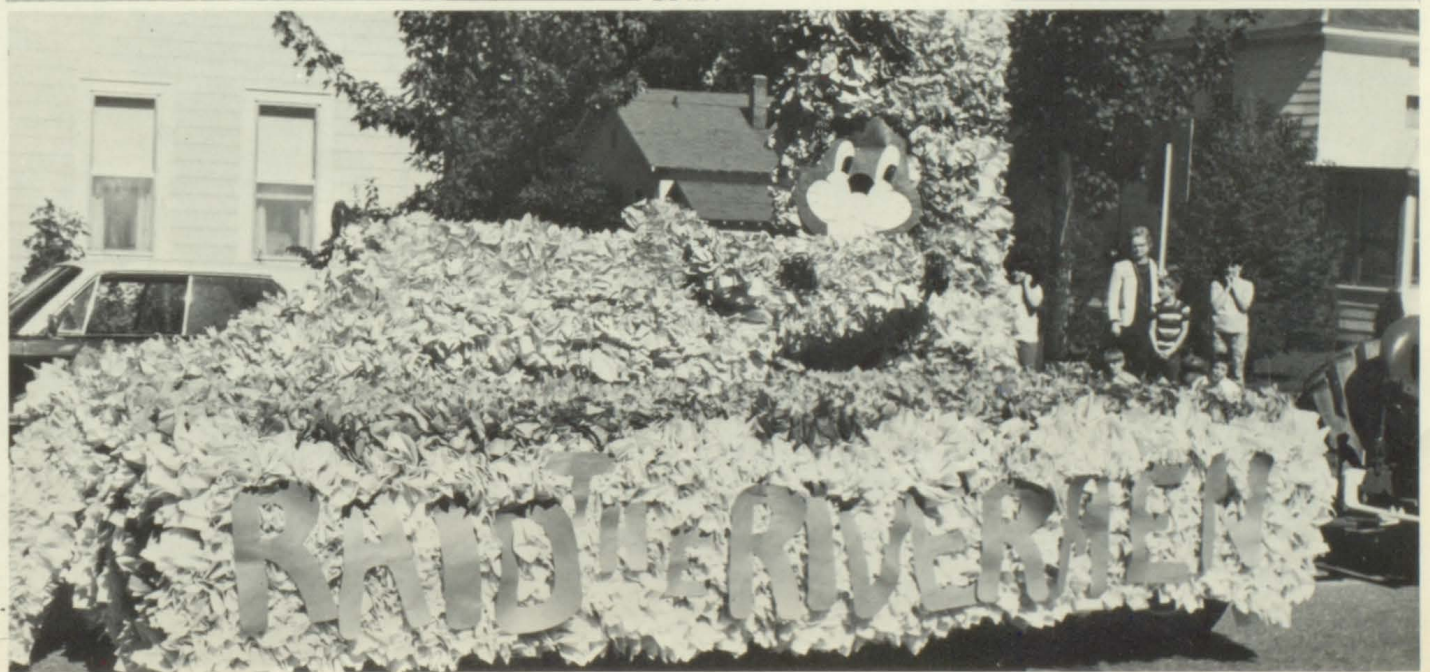

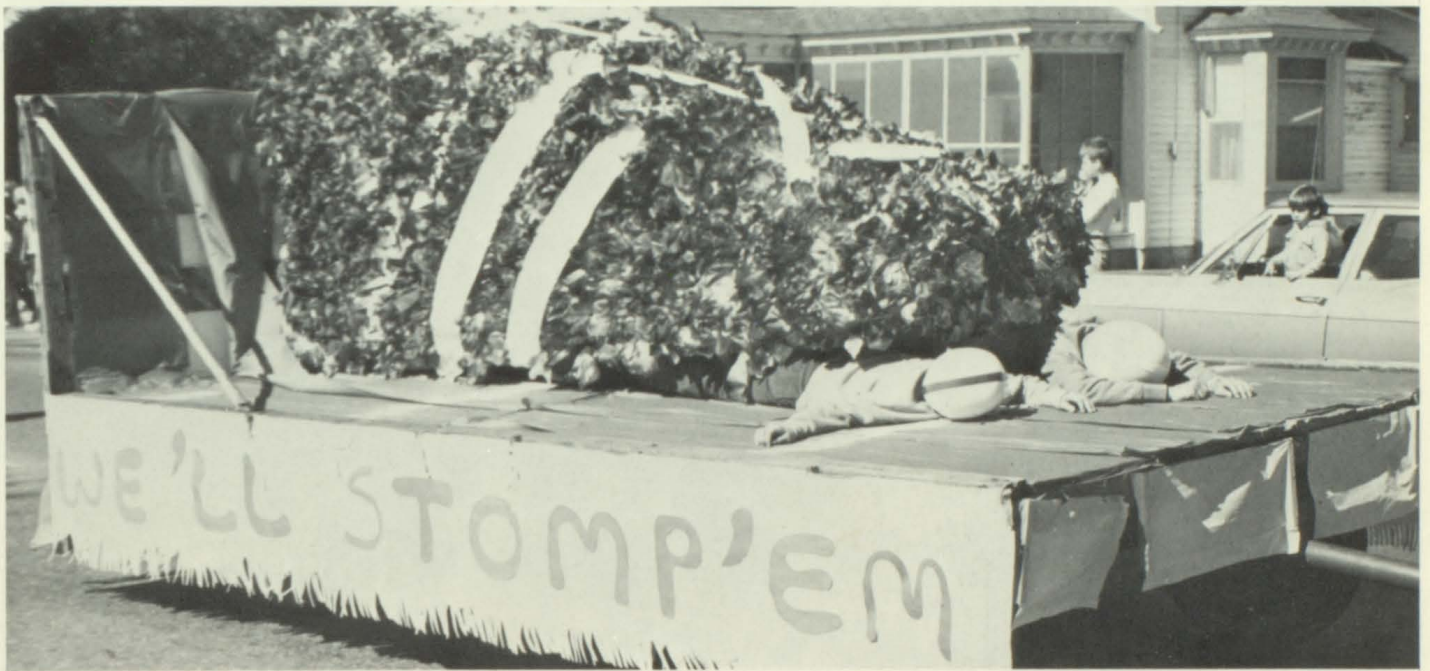

HOMECOMING

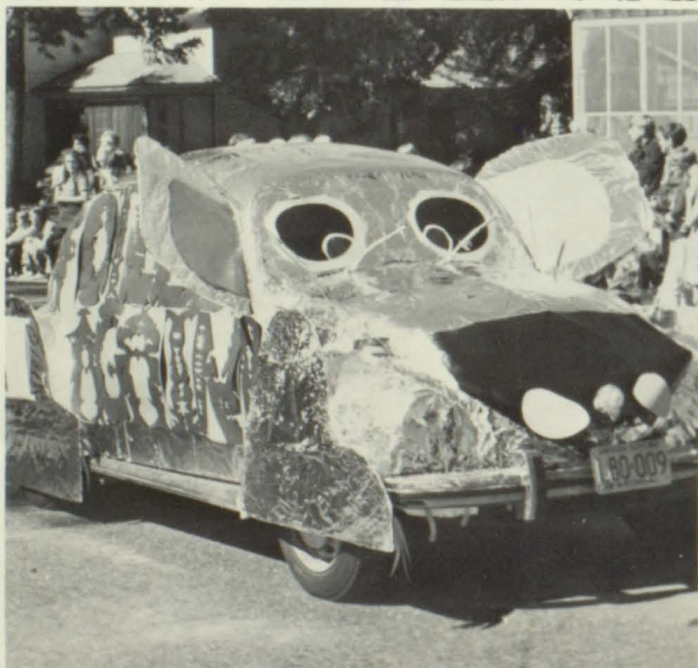

Due to popular demand, Homecoming was informal this year. Squirt provided the music.

Thursday night the Juniors lit the bonfire that they'd built at the Elementary school. Friday afternoon the parade was held along main street. The winning prize was claimed by the special ed class "Swamp the Rivermen." The Freshman float took second for "Stomp 'em." Third place was captured by the FHA-FFA float entitled "They'll Walk the Plank." At half-time the crowning took place. The band entertained while in parade formation. The twirlers made a good showing.

BASKETBALL

Despite their efforts the basketball team tried in vain to have a successful season. This was aggravated by four losses by a margin [redacted] succeed in throwing a scare [redacted] all Creek, and Eleva-Strum [redacted] close only counts in hors

WINTERBALL

The Senior class sponsored a Winter-ball on December 16. It was a formal dance and the general public was included. Townspeople lent us their Christmas lights so the gym could have a real Christmas atmosphere.

Eddie Berry and Sandie Sieg served as King and Queen. Vice-kings and queens included Dan Ries and Bonnie Richards, Steve Dickinsen and Jolene Sieg. "Silver Bells" was used as the theme song for the grand march.

The ball succeeded in spreading Christmas Joy.

"Phred" provided the music, as they had for Prom.

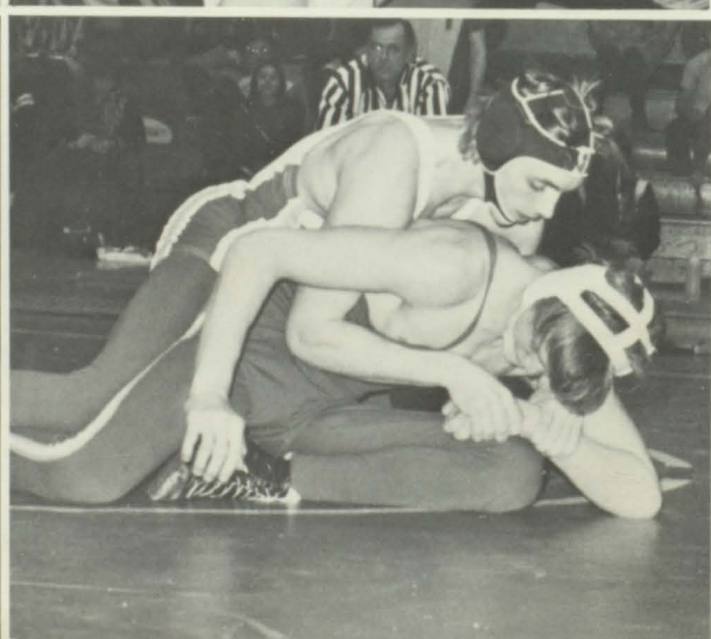

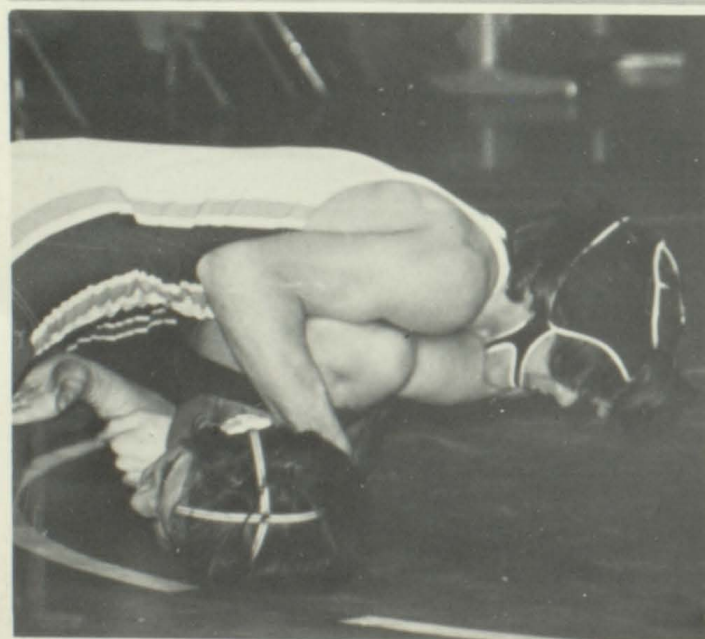

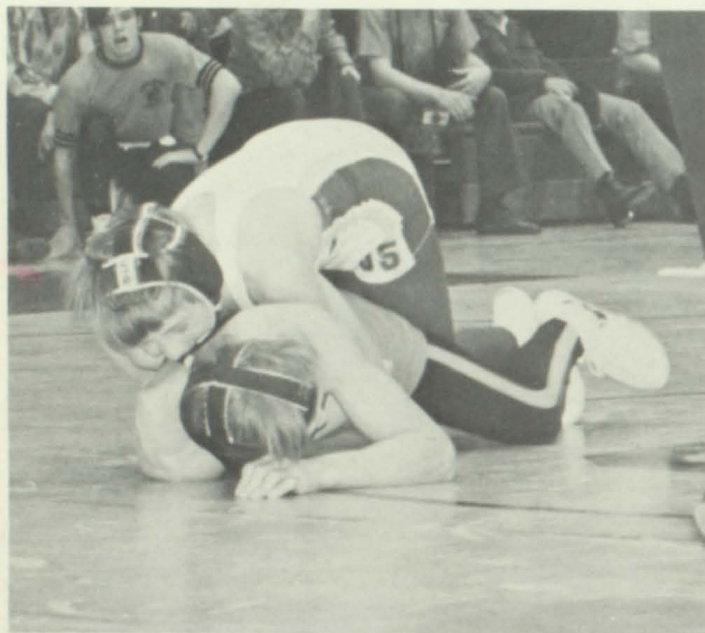

WRESTLING

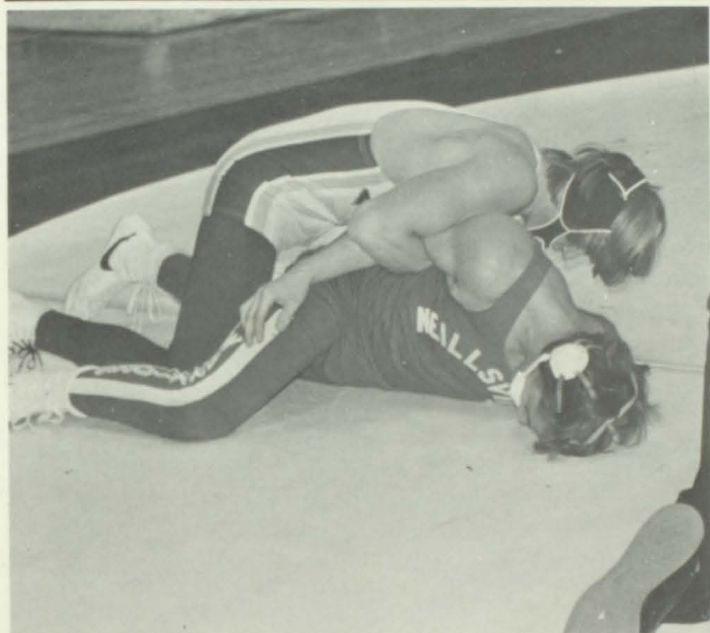

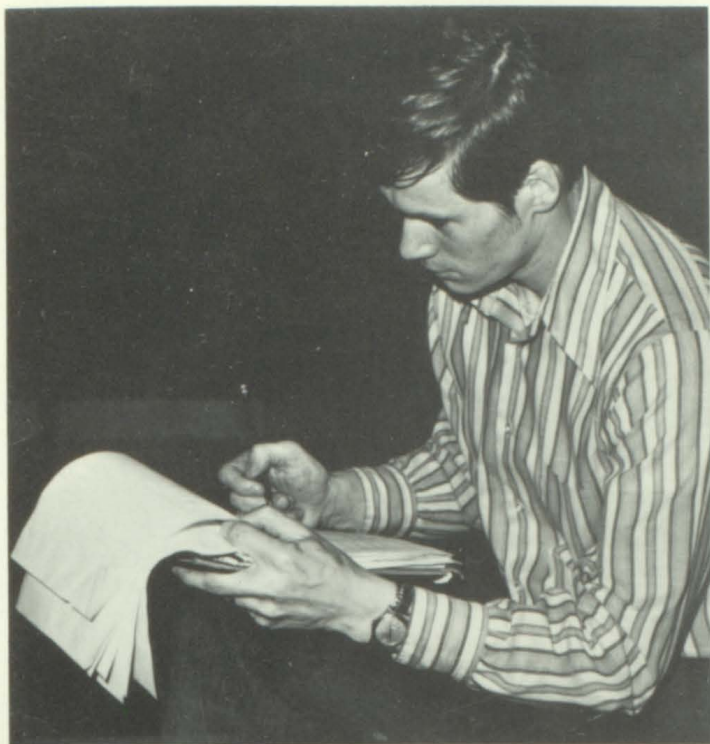

The wrestlers began their winning season in an afternoon all-school match with Cadott. From that time on, they couldn't be stopped. The trophy case became crowded with the addition of the 5 trophies the team brought in. Many new records were set ... Allen Ida broke the record for a fast pin at 126 lbs. Dan Ries set new records for most pins, most team points, and career wins.

The Dairyland Conference Tournament was held at Augusta this year. It proved to be a very successful tournament for the team and their fans.

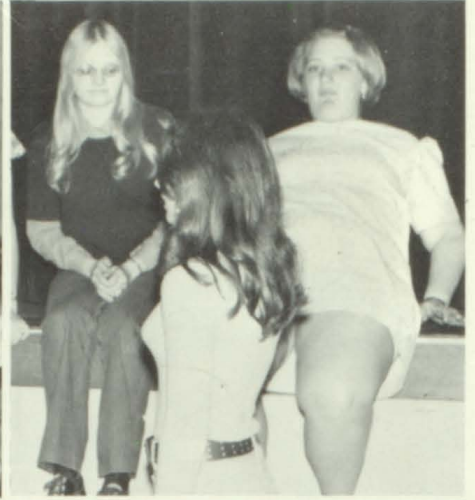

Our team ranked thirteenth in the state at the close of the season, but to us, they're still #1!

Named to the all conference first team were Gary Barka, Dusty and Cole Warner, and Danny Ries. Named to the second team were Randy Barka, Loren Travis, Ron Berlin and Gene Barka.
