Lightning Strikes

The atmosphere became a tempest of swirling colors. Thunder reverberated in the distance. Directly above the building, a streak of lightning attacked the air, Settling on the school. Confusion ran rampant, as a veil of billowy smoke Entered the door. The haze dispersed, forming the most diverse, most unforgettable, group of seniors ever known to mankind. I give you. . . The Class of 1992-Tana Henke

FACULTY

Throughout the entire year the top-rated AHS teachers were always there to help with homework, problems of a personal nature, and to give an often well-deserved pat on the back. There never was a dull moment at Augusta High. Whirlwinds of activities always presided over the vivacious, yet highly educational classes. Occasionally students felt the impulse to put their heads down and crash. But the flash of the yellow demerit book would quickly bring them back to reality. Students should feel proud to have the electrifying faculty that we have!!

Striking on the scene at AHS, the senior class of '92 proved to be "too hard to handle." When the class decided to work together (which doesn't happen very often) they accomplished many feats. This was most apparent at Homecoming with the Scott vs. "an unknown cheerleader" dispute, the one-night, 1st place hall decorations, the Energizer Hans & Frans skit, the attack on the judges during the yelling competition, the snake dance down main street, the painted bridge, and the school sign (company vehicles only) on the top of the bonfire. Unfortunately, they were "politely" asked to remove the sign or there would be no bonfire! Being the outstanding young citizens that they are, they responded with all the pride and dignity that a Senior can have. They have always been different, in attitude and school spirit. What other class cheers only at Homecoming? But hey, they don't have to prove themselves to anybody! Yes, they love their attitude problem!!!

A Jolt Of Junior Jazz

What can you say about the Junior class? We asked a couple teachers this question and they came up with some interesting responses. "One can only hope the Juniors will be able to harness their energy," said Mr. Garrity "so we can survive their senior year." A number of adjectives also popped up along with the quotes. Each teacher seemed to agree that the Juniors are full of energy, competitive, and athletic. The Class of '93 is "pretty neat" said Mrs. Rieder, Another teacher contributed the fact that some of the some of the boys in the class (Matt, Cale, and Dale) are "wild and crazy" while the girls are strong leaders. "The Juniors are lively, animated, serious, competitive, aregarious, inquizitive, cooperative, grade grubers," guess who? Mr. Stutzman also added that "with the collective energies of the Class of '93 I feel like I'm riding 'drag' on a trail drive." The Junior class arabbed the attention of the school during the '91-'92 school year by being themselves, exactly how every teacher described them.

STORMING SOPHMORES

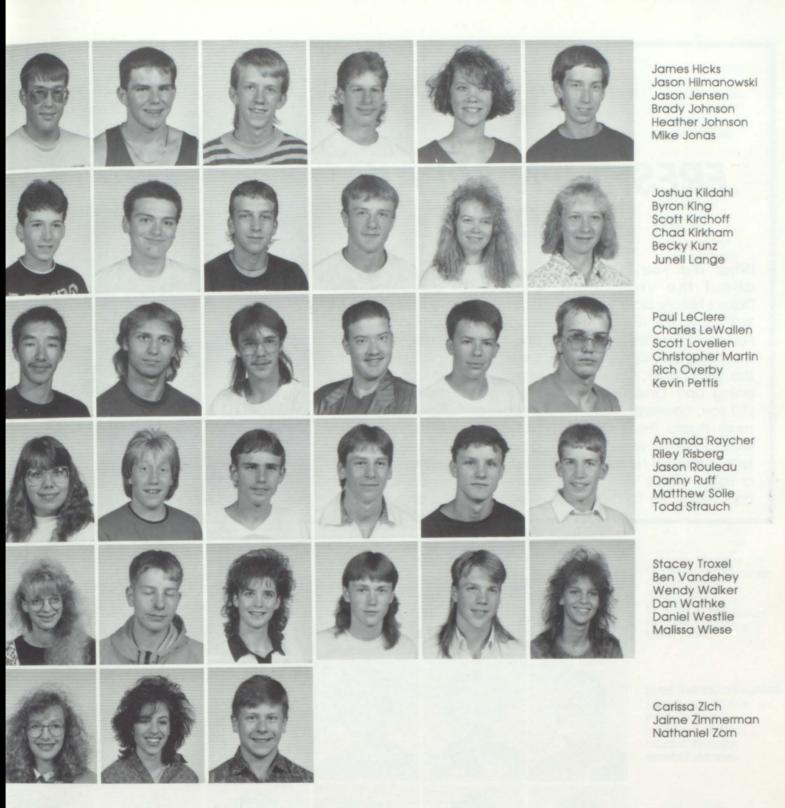

"I remember when I was working at the Dairy and a car crashed through the bulk room," recalled Byron King when asked about a memorable work experience. Many sophomores have jobs (surprisingly) and work hard to earn that extra spending money. Quite a few of these jobs are on farms. "A cow stepped on my foot and almost broke it," whined Bud. Randy Bruder will probably never forget the time he almost flipped the tractor. Brady Johnson was kicked by a cow into the autter and Heidi Adam was kicked in the head. Farm jobs, however, aren't the only jobs this class holds. Can you imagine mowing the cemetery lawn in the dark? Nathan Zorn can, since this is his way of earning money. What would it feel like to fall down a hay shoot? Just ask Missy Wiese, she took the tumble during the summer while putting hay in the mow. Working at the Tree Farm was a short-lived experience for Paul LeClere and Dan Westlie, thankfully, since Dan cut off half of his shoe in just his first couple days on the job. The class of 1994 worked hard to earn a buck and a laugh throughout the summer and school year. With the arrival of new driver's licenses the class had to keep working.

FRESHMEN SPEAK OUT!

What did you like most about the year? "Mr. Duke's history class," said a freshman. It's not a joke. For most freshman this is the most dreaded class of the year. Is Mr. Duke softening up? One freshman did say, however, that the most stupid thing she did was to skip a weekly written — maybe he isn't such a softy. These are results and reactions to a survey given to this class. Most embarrassing experiences ranged from speaking in front of a group of people to a day "when my hair wouldn't work." The typical concerns of a freshman aren't world peace or hunger, but who's going with who and football games. That's ok because that's what makes a freshman a freshman and their lives interesting and fun.

Electrifying Eighth Graders

Now that the class of '96 has an idea about how things work they're ready to graduate from junior high and move on to being real high schoolers. From jammed lockers to jammed fingers the eighth graders learned a lot about life's good times and bad. Their first two years were filled with experiences that will help them be better students, better athletes, or even better friends throughout the rest of their years at AHS. The class of '96 showed a lot of athletic talent and will help future Augusta teams on to victory.

Smoldering Seventh Graders

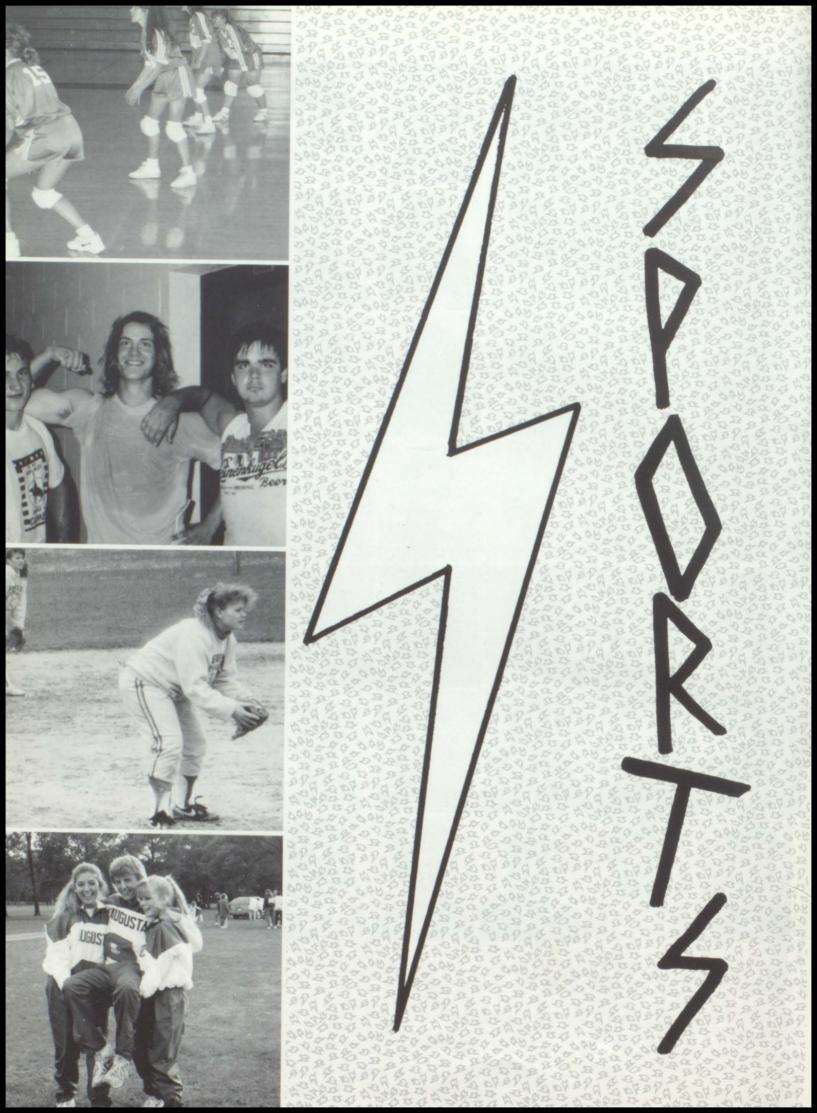

With the changing of time there is also a changing of classes. Through the years there have been a variety of 7th grade classes, each with its own unique qualities that makes it stand out from the others. The class of '97 is full of interesting people doing interesting things to make their first year of junior high memorable. During the year they got to experience their first dances, be involved in extra-curricular activities, and Homecoming week. For their first year in the high school the class of '97 started out on the right foot and now have an idea about how fun high school life can be.

Picture it, Greenwood, October, 1991. The Auausta Beavers and the Greenwood Indians prepared for a battle. This would be a battle between two powerhouse football teams. The Beavers, led by junior quarterback John Kelly and the Indians, led by senior quarterback Rico Rhondorf. The game started with the Indians receiving the ball near the 20 yard line. The Indians had to give the ball up when linebacker Jonathan Loaterman forced a fumble. The Beavers proceeded down the field to the 10 vard line. Coach Crowe sent in the screen pass. Running back Chad Kirkham caught the pass and followed his lineman into the end zone. TOUCHDOWN BEAVERS! The extra point attempt failed and the Beavers were on top 6-0. The Indians answered back in the second guarter when QB Rhondorf hooked up with a receiver in the end zone for six. The extra point failed the score was 6-6. The second half followed with the two teams head to head in a stalemate until overtime. The Indians won the coin toss and elected defense. It was the Beavers ball on the 10 yard line. The Beavers were stopped on their first try, but the next play John Kelly ran for 4 yards to the 6. Again Kelly read the defense and carried the ball to the 1 yard line. It was fourth down and the Beavers needed to score. The ball was snapped and fullback Scott Randall got the handoff and went in for 6. The extra-point attempt was good as John Kelly powered his way to the end zone. Then it was the Indians turn. Their first play from scrimmage in overtime was stuffed by the left side of the Beaver defense. Their next attempt evoled in much the same way. The third play was destroyed in the works when John Kelly sacked Rico Rhondorf on the 19 yardline for a nine yard loss. Their situation looked grim and the Beaver defense didn't let up. The last play of the game ended with the right side of the defensive line stuffing Rhondorf. The crowd went wild. The field was stormed by Beaver fans. What a night, everybody was laughing and hugging each other. It was an eventful night for the young Beaver team. And all I can add is, "It just don't aet any better than this!"

Both teams were coached by Kris Perkovich and Carrie Ries. The seventh graders showed a lot of talent and promise for the future. The eighth grade team was also very strong out on the court. As Freshmen they will help keep up the winning tradition for the high school teams. The hard work and dedication by both teams will pay off for them in the future. The "Augusta Animals" wrapped up an extremely successful season, capturing sole possession of the Western Cloverbelt Conference Championship. The undefeated Beavers presented a very talented team consisting of three seniors, seven juniors, and one sophomore. Support for the team grew as the season progressed. A pep rally was thrown by the football players to send the team off to sectionals (Remember the pancakes?). The girls came one game short of a trip to the state tournament in Oshkosh, but represented the school well with hard work and dedication that paid off at the season's end.

Shooting Up A Storm

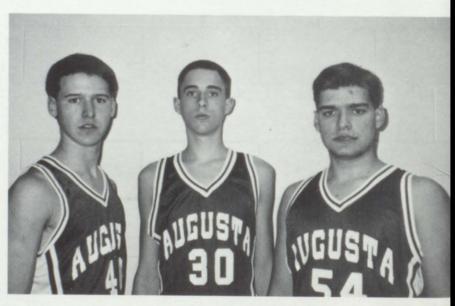

CAPTAINS: Mark Bauch, John Kelly, and Mike Bauch

I've fallen and I can't get up!

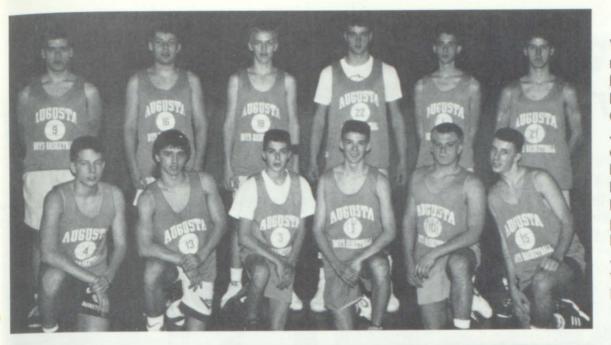

After losing some talented seniors from last year's team, the Augusta boys basketball squad floored some very young players. Only three seniors were there to lead them. The season started out slow but began to pick up as the team grew more experienced. By the end of the year, they avenged some earlier losses and fought to the bitter end in some games they just couldn't come away with. As they progressed they showed a lot of determination and stamina which will definately carry through to next year's team.

Striking the Boards in Junior High

The Junior High Boys Basketball team was successful despite their win-loss record. Teamwork and good sportsmanship was their hallmark. They played hard and were "into" the game. With their positive attitude and some hard work, they will develop into a good team. We look forward to seeing their development in the future.

The junior high girls' basketball team worked hard in their first week of practice. About half of the eighth graders participated in a tournament at Barron, where they walked away with second place. Their first game was on January 28, and their season lasted until the end of March. In a interview with one of the coaches, John Anderson informed us that the team was small — about twenty players combined. Because of this, they ran and pressed a lot. We were unable to get any further information from player interviews. About all they shared was this, "We Don't Know." But, what could we expect when the season had just started.

Hoopsters On The Rebound

After many hard seasons the Augusta girls basketball program finally began to turn around in 1992. Due to a lot of hard work off season the team progressed and came out strong. They won their first two games, something that hasn't happened in Augusta for a long time. They also lost some disappointing games by only a few points. The team was led by two seniors Peggy Smith and Wendy Honadel. Kristin Anderson, a loyal member, sustained a back injury and couldn't join the team, but her support was noticed and appreciated. There were also five juniors and two sophomores that helped bring pride back into the AHS girls basketball program.

Spreading spirit and enthusiasm was not an easy job. This challenge was taken on by the cheerleaders at AHS. Finding ways to promote school spirit was a task these girls faced all year. Sponsoring pep rallies and leading cheers was one way they accomplished this. They also dedicated a lot of time to rnaking posters, rehearsing dance routines, and giving locker treats. Setting up dances and fan buses was another way in which they showed their support for the team. After long seasons the determined group of spirit leaders never lost their enthusiasm and drive which helped keep the teams on a winning track.

Striking Out . . . NOT!

During the '91 softball season there were a few new faces out on the field. With the team coop between O-F and Augusta, the softball team gained some new players to help lead the team to victory. The season was full of wins but ended with a loss to rival Altoona in Sub-Regionals. Throughout the season they faced new challanges. One of them was dealing with an unusual amount of rain and slippery fields. Peggy was named tournament MVP, Kristin earned best defense, and Kari received best hitter. The team lost five players to graduation, but are in good shape to take the conference and do well in playoffs once again.

Those damp runners!

Go-What? Well, whatever their motto was the new Augusta Cross Country team started out their first year on the right track (or golf course). Four seniors and one junior made up the successful girls squad and six seniors and three juniors made up the boys team. Cale Jacobs, in his first year, earned a trip to the state meet in Wisconsin Rapids where he placed 16 out of 70 runners. The new team showed determination and hopefully inspired more underclassman to carry on this new tradition.

STRIKE A PROSE

Most people don't find getting up in front of a group and speaking something they would like to do for enjoment. There are, however, a few courageous students at AHS who took part in tournaments and competed doing exactly that. Each forensics meet consisted of standing up in front of a group of people, all of whom were doing the same type of thing, and performing a prepared piece. There are usually three different rounds to compete in. In each round the person or group is rated and compared to the others in the round. At the end of the season forensics students took part in tournaments to earn the right to go to state where they only had to compete in one round and could receive a score up to 25. A 25 is a gold medal, a 24 is a silver, and a 23 is a bronze. There were a variety of categories to compete in. AHS had a very good representation and a strong 1992 forensics team.

After long tedious hours of racking brains and munching or snacks the annual staff produced the 1992 yearbook. Every Monday night(and sometimes Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday...) they got together to try and be as clever and creative as possible to give AHS a great yearbook. Things got a little hectic at times, but when "Lightning Strikes" it strikes hard and it made the 1992 Beaver one of the best ever.

Over the years, NHS has been known to be nothing but a bunch of bookworms trying to excel in their education. Now it's not just books and brains, it's blood-thirsty teenagers ready to face the world! Their venture began in the spring of '91 with a trip to Minnesota to enjoy a baseball game between the Twins and the Oakland A's. They were accompanied by their fearless leader, Mr. Jacobson. The baseball game; however, was not a new experience for the group. So, in search of something a little out of the ordinary, the NHS debated the idea of seeing a hockey game. Mr. Jacobson; however, feared someone would end up with a head injury instead of a baseball as a souvenir. Tana Henke was elected to lead the group as President through the 91-92 school year, the vice-president was Jessi Crowe, and secretary was Andrea Stoel. NHS is basically an organization that honors those students who have achieved a grade point average of 3.25 or higher. Students with qualifying G.P.A.'s are then judged and ranked by faculty members on the basis of their leadership, scholarship, character, and service qualities.

"Breaking New Ground" was the prize-winning motto worn on the T-shirts of our fearless leaders at the Fall Conference in Cable, Wisconsin's Telemark Lodge. The student body moved more ground in school activities thanks to extra effort from the Student Council. They went beyond the call of duty when they sponsored school dances, played Secret Santa by distributing gifts to the faculty, and had a pizza party for Christmas. The council hosted the Spring Conference at AHS and they attended many other leadership workshops throughout the year. Because of Ms. Meyer and the loyal members, things are getting accomplished to make this school even better.

Junior High Choir

The room is filled with chaos. Rowdy, adventureseeking young people run rampant, gossipping, chewing gum, and hitting each other. What teacher would allow a class to get this wild, you ask. Mr. Buckles would, of course, in Jr. High Choir. But if you're thinking that Mr. Buckles is shirking his teacherly duties, relax. After allowing the students a few moments to let off steam, he auickly tames them down. This is where it gets wierd. All of a sudden the students begin to hiss and breathe in unison. Then they start making strange noises like blub, blub, blub, and flow, flow, flow. This may seem wierd to the casual observer: however, be assured that this is a necessary step to properly warm up the vocal chords. You can tell how well it pays off - when they begin to sing the air is suddenly filled with a rich and beautiful melody, and you sit in wonder at the magical transformation that has occurred.

Now that they're all grown up and not gawky little kids anymore, the ladies and gentlemen of the Senior High Choir carry on their activities in a calm and mature manner. NOT!! We're talking about a group of the most buoyant and exuberant people on the planet. Mr. Buckles sure had his hands full. But he proved that he is definitely up to the challenge. Since his arrival at AHS, the choir has grown into a group of highly talented young singers that command respect with every perfect note they sing. Mr. Buckles and his choir should be commended on their dedication and excellence.

Whether it's pep band or concert band, Augusta always produced the best sound possible. This year you could find the band at every football game and most volleyball and basketball games blowing away to heighten school spirit and enthusiasm. Peppy numbers aren't all the band did either. They also held concerts during Christmas and spring and took part in the large group band festival. By doing this they showed just how musical they were. So, rain or shine the AHS band could always be counted on to give that extra boost of spirit or to tickle the ears with sweet sounds.

'91 Homecoming. . .Hard To Handle!

Everything I Do, I Do It For You!

"Sink the Pirates" was the Homecoming theme for the game between the Beavers and the Gilman Pirates. Dress up days, hall decorating, and float building were some of the activities at AHS. A volleyball tournament was added to the list of events. The Junior class came out with the victory and the prize money. Snake dancing used to be a popular thing at past bonfires, but wasn't rekindled until this year. A large group of kids could be seen whipping around town holding hands and laughing. The routine Friday pep assembly was fired by a couple rowdy classes fighting for the spirit stick. And once again the football team captured another homecoming victory. Junior Prom '91

Did you have a date for your Junior Prom? Well, we didn't. But we did not let that stop us from having the time of our lives. Hello, this is Lightning and Bolt, our aliases, of course. Yes, we arrived together, sat together, and danced together. We ate the traditional meal at Heckel's together! And, would we have preferred the company of a man? You betcha! But, we weren't alone. For those of you who did have dates, congratulations! It won't always be that easy!

"I thought the Grecian decorations were quite Greek."

"How about that Wall of Balloons?"

"Yes, I am sure that took hours of work by those industrious juniors!"

"What would you say, Lightning? Wasn't Prom rather casual?"

"I most certainly would say so, Bolt! I saw a mixture of shorts, jeans, and an unusual assortment of tuxedos cut off at the knees! What's your opinion, Bolt?"

"Well, I'd have to say that I don't have much to say! Back to you Lightning."

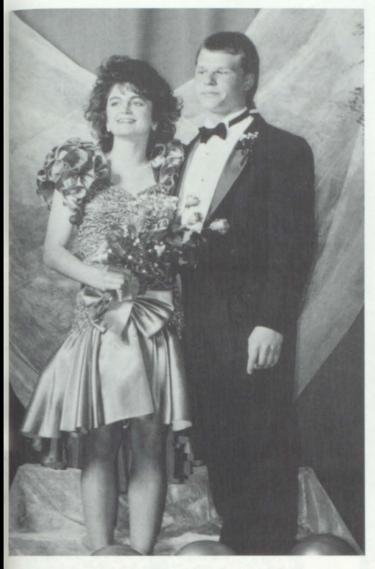

"Thank you, Bolt. All in all I would say that Prom was a success and I hope that next year, God willing, we can get dates."

"Right you are, Lightning!"

Student Teachers

1992 brought with it a larger than usual amount of student teachers. Each with his/her own personal qualities that brought AHS even more knowledge. Some put extra hard work toward academics and some toward athletics, but whatever it happened to be they all helped encourage and teach students, making both sides better for the opportunity.

A Little Bolt Of Spain

At the beginning of the 1991-92 school year, the Junior class was privileged to have a very sweet and interesting young lady added to their diverse class list. This young lady was Inma Peris-Marti. Inma came all the way over from Sagunto, Valencia, Spain. During her time in Augusta, Inma stayed with Roger, Nancy, Jennifer, and Matthew Erdman. Inma's hobbies include swimming, hanging out with her friends, and gymnastics, which she studied for ten years. Inma liked Augusta High School better than her other school because there were more activities. She also said that the teachers are nicer. One thing Inma didn't like about Augusta is the cold weather, and who can blame her for that? Although Inma enjoyed Augusta, she missed her family and her friends very much. Inma taught us a lot about life in Spain, as well as the Spanish language. We hope Inma had a great time in America.
